BCSE Supports President Biden's Call to Enact Clean Energy and Climate Change Tax and Investment Policies

Washington, D.C. – In response to President Biden's State of the Union address, BCSE President Lisa Jacobson offered the following statement:

"President Biden highlighted critical tax and investment policies to expand clean energy and energy efficiency as a means to create domestic jobs, expand U.S. manufacturing and to modernize U.S. infrastructure -- while reducing harmful greenhouse gas emissions and enhancing community resilience.

"The private sector is ready to invest, building on a record level of energy investment in 2021. Federal policy support will catalyze additional investment and accelerate deployment of a broad portfolio of clean energy and energy efficient technologies.

"BCSE looks forward to working with the Biden Administration and Congress to enact these measures this year."
